

Observation latency and deployment variation are measured in the BMv2 software environment.